Support of the Poor. A poor plan of supporting the poor is poor management, indeed. The attention of the City Council of Cincinnati has just been called o our own municipal expenditures for vagrants and the indigent residents of our city, by Mr. Langworth, and his son-in-law, Mr. Flagg. The latter gentleman, whose father has been Mayor of the city of New Haven, has furnished our olty authorities with the views on this subject of Mr. James Browstor, of New Haven, who, in 1825, conceived the ides that there was physical ability in the poor of large cities to be made self-supporting. After examining what kind of poorses were provided in New York and elsewhere, the subject was discussed in the City Council, and a few thousand dollars were appropriated for a small farm and plain structures, where, by daily leber, in and out of doors, and by .wholesome, regular, moral instruction and kind treatment, the poor were comforta-bly cared for, supported by their own labor.

Horticulture was relied upon and was a pro ductive resource. Heavy appropriations hitherto made were unnecessary-more than $100,-000 was saved to the town, and the land is worth more than twice the purchase money. An Orphan Asylum for poor children was also built on the grounds. We await the report of the Committee on Infirmary, when we will give our views as to the poor way ours is of supporting the poor in idleness and moral degradation, instead of developing their mental, moral and physical powers, and supporting themselves.

The money of this people is wasted like water on the ground-even worse than that, for it may cause some good growth. We will hold up, however, and wait to see if we are to have a reform.

Every Tub on its On Bottom-Lool Well to Your Ticket.

An inexplicable silence has been manifested by the Regulars of the Y. M. M. L. Association. No ticket has been announced for a contest with the Independents at the annual election, which is assigned for Tuesday next. | ing for plantations; Nairn for the mammoth. We caution our readers against spurious Orr, of all kinds fresh, can, keg and shell. tickets. We say with the lecturer, "Every Tub on its Own Bottom"-but we have advices of one turned up. The ticket has been turned topsy-turvy. The cook has been decapitated and the head is at the bottom of the ticket. Look out for the Irregular Ticket-President, Joseph B. Chapman, with Wynne, Haines & Co.; Vice President, William J. Torrence, with T. S. Dugan & Co.; Corresponding Secretary, John M. Wilson, of Wilson, Eggleston & Co.; Recording Secretary, Joseph C. Woodruff, with Pearson & Co.; Treasurer, Wm. Crichton, with Gaylord, Son & Co.; Directors, J. J. McDowell, with Commercial Bank; Wm. Stewart, with Harrison & Hooper; Wm. C. Vanderbilt, of David Gibson & Co.; and The- Ogden & See, or Sprague & Co. odore Cook, of Barker, Hart & Cook. These are good men, but as at present advised, we are not prepared to speak of the ticket of the Irdependents.

No Speaker.

Six South Americans gave their vote, yesterday, with a majority of the Democratic members, for Mr. Chas. L. Scott, of California, who had been nominated for Speaker by Mr. English, of Ind. Mr. Maynard, of Tenn., withdrew his name as a candidate, and voted for Scott, who received 83 votes. Mr. Sherman received another ballot, within four votes of election, as heretofore.

It will be well for the House when it is organized, perhaps, that the members have spoken so much for Bunkum-business may thereby have a freer course. Mr. Morris, of Illinois. Anti-Lecompton Democrat, spoke with great severity of the President, and warned Western Democrats to admit no new tests at the Democratic Convention to come off at Charleston. Mr. Branch, of N. C., and Mr. Grow, of Penn., had a bandy of words on the floor which may cause a bandy of blows, or grow into a duel.

Satan Rebuking Sin.

The last insue of Porter's Spirit of the Times preaches a dull sermon on what it calls the sentimental and sensational journalism of the present day, and greatly deplores its evil influences. The idea of a sporting paper, devoted to prize-fighting, bull-baiting, and canine combats, growing lackrymosely moral about sentiment, is droll enough. One account of a notorious "mill" does more to brutalize a community than all the worst novels of the most deleterious so styled French and German schools that were ever written. The editor of the Spirit must be the rarest of Rigolettos.

Tubs Come Down-A Bunyan Kick. Rev. George C. Robinson made, last night, a "ten strike" on the bowling alley of lecturedom, holding a "spare." He rolled the balls with force and effect, knocking down pins of conventionalism. Exceptions will be taken by illiberal persons, perhaps, to his liberality, and plous hands will be upraised in terror at the havor he makes in kicking down old prejudices, but the cooper was reconciled to the tinker Bunyan, who knocked down his pile of tube, when he appreciated the pupose that, "Every tub should stand on its own bottom."

The Press. What De Quincey said of the victories of the Press may be applied to the progress of the Paury Paras: "Much has been accomplished; more than people are aware-so gradual has been the advance. How noiseless is the growth of corn! Watch it night and day for a week, and you will never see it growing; but return after two months, and you will find it all whitening for the harvest. Such and so imperceptible in the stages of their motion are the victories of the Press." Every one has to acknowledge the corn that we have Union Meeting.

ROCHESTER, December 29 .- A large Union Meeting was held in this city last evening, which was addressed by James Brooks and Ex-Governor Hunt. The resolutions adopted were of rather a mixed character, but the principal one is the following: Resolved, That we can not too strongly rebuke the sentiment that the election of a Pres ident, by a constitutional majority having views of public policy with which the minority do not concide, would furnish a just cause for a dissolution of the Union. We, on the contrary, hold such sentiments to be disorganizing and traitorous, editous to all patriotic and Union, loving and and discarding the contrary. organizing sand traitrous, duties to an parasite and Union-loving men, and disgraceful to the civilization of the ago, and we hereby give to our fellow-citizens, East, West, North and South, our most selemn pledges that whoever may be elected President of these United States may be elected President of these United States in a constitutional way, shall receive from us, in the lawful discharge of his duties, the same willing obedience and energetic support which we have given to each and all of his predecessors, and we hereby declare our firm and unaltered purpose to sustain and protect him in the lawful discharge of these duties from all enemies within or without, at home or all enemies within or without, at home or

There was an effort to lay this resolution on the table, but it passed by a large majority, and then the meeting adjourned.

XXXVIth CONGRESS-1st SESSION.

WASHINGTON, December 29. Mr. Morris, of Ill., resumed his remarks from yesterday. He said that the great doctrine of popular sovereignty is in peril. The Democratic party is divided. The ultra republic of the said of the sa Democratic party is divided. The ultra representatives from the slave-holding States have abandoned it. It was not disputed that the Cincinnati platform recognizes this doctrine, but this seems to make no difference. The President and the ultra Democrats have torn up the plank and interpolated new ones, and have driven the political car fearfully to the precipice. This was inaugurated at the last session with the infamous Lecompton swindle. The President pursued those who opposed it expecially from Illingia with very opposed it, especially from Illinois, with personal malignity. White he was bidding for the Charleston nomination, Judge Douglas was the only man North who has succeeded in a general election since the crusade was com-menced, and he fought hand to band with the cohorts of Lincoln and the hungry President's pack, cheered on by Attorney General Black.

Good Democrats have been removed in Illinois and Abolitionists put in their places.

Democrats who have refused to bow to the Democrats who have refused to bow to the dictation of the President, have been pursued with hellish malignity. He said that Gook, postmaster at Chicago, was the President's manager to get up delegates to be sont to Charleston. The address he issued was prepared at Washington, for Cook can scarcely read, and can not spell a sentence in the Euglish language correctly, but who understands better the mixing or drinking of mint-juleps. He gave notice to the Democracy of the West at Charleston not to submit to new tests.

Mr. Millson, of Va., referred to the remarks of Mr. Morris, saying that the latter seemed to imply that Southern men are in favor of re-opening the African slave trade and re-pealing the neutrality laws. He suggested that such might not have been Mr. Morris's ranted in saying that such was the purpose of Southern Democrats. He had seen, with much regret, his own position misrepresented, and the remarks of others attributed to himself. He never made the remark that he was not prepared to say that, at some future time, he would not be willing to re-open the African

Mr. Morris replied that he did not attribute such motives to the Democrats of the South, but to ultra men. Mr. Scott, of California, replied to some re-marks of Mr. Morris about California affairs, saying that his attack upon sixty-one thou-sand Democrats in California came with an ill-grace from a friend of Douglas. Had it come from a Republican he would not have been surprised. He said that Broderick was never strong enough in California to create any fear, or cause any desire to hunt him down. A report had gone abroad that there was a conspiracy among the leaders of the Democratic party to strike down Broderick. He branded it as an infamous falsehood.

Mr. Grow, of Penn., complained of the un-parliamentary and ungentlemanly conduct of Mr. Branch, of North Carolina, in secusing him of unworthy motives in defeating the post-office appropriation bill.

Mr. Branch.—Do you accuse me of ungenlemanly conduct? Mr. Grow-My language was plain; I have othing to retract. Mr. Valladigham, of Ohio, said he was one of the Democrats who voted for Mr. Grow's resolution at the last session, and deemed an explanation proper for all he had done. He assumed the responsibility, and was surprised that Mr. Grow was endeavoring to creep out of it. He (Valladigham) had voted for Mr. Grow's resolution because he was not certain of the constitutionality of the act of the Senate in increasing the rate of postage; but yet Mr. Grow was responsible for all the calamities attending the defeat of the bill.

In the course of his remarks he said that

Mr. Seward in 1858 promulgated the doctrine of an irrepressible conflict.

Mr. McKnight, of Penn., (Mr. Pryor, of Va., yielding the floor,) referred Mr. Pryor to the manifesto issued to the country in 1849, drawn up by Mr. Calhoun and signed by the members of the Virginia Legislature of both Houses, including Mr. Bocock, in which this vary doubtine of irrepressible conflict. very doctrine of irrepressible conflict is pro-

Mr. McKnight said that his object was to show that Seward has received more honor than was due him.

Mr. Pryor resumed the floor, and both he Mr. Pryor resumed the noor, and both ne and Mr. McKnight were speaking loudly at the same time, causing much confusion.

Mr. Pryor said that the gentleman should not, under any hypocritical and false pretense, inject a speech in the body of this House. He had yielded the floor for a few moments only, and he regarded the gentleman's conduct as another violation of obligations by Northern Representatives. [Applause.] Having concluded his remarks, Mr. Maynard, of Tennessee, rose and said that he regarded the support given to him yesterday as an evidence that gentlemen were willing to forget past political differences for a time, and to unite for high patriotic purposes rather than as a personal compliment. He dared not therefore, approach their action to himself, or, oven make it the object of his thanks, appro-hending that the further use of his name would fail to concentrate a sufficient number to organize the House on a broad, national and onservative basis, he unconditionally with-

Mr. English, of Indians, nominated Chas. L. Scott, of California, as a candidate for Speaker, who ought to be satisfactory to every National man.

After a call of the House, a ballot was taken with the following result:

TWENTY-FOURTH BALLOT.—Whole number of votes, 210; necessary to a choice, 106.
Shorman, 102; Scott, 83; Gilmer, 14; scattering 1 ing, 11. The House then adjourned.

From Washington.

Washington, December 29 .- The names of the six Opposition members who to-day voted with the majority of the Democrats for Mr. Scott, for Speaker, are: Boteler, Bouligny, Hardeman, Moore, of Tenn., Vance and Maynard.

Mr. Branch will, if he has not already done so, probably demand of Mr. Grow in the usual manner, an explanation of the language applied to him to-day in the House. It is probable, however, that by the intervention of friends, the cause of offense on each side will be removed without resorting to extreme

The Fire in New York.

New York, December 29—M.—The fire has been extinguished, and proves less disastrous than was at first believed. Six buildings on Beekman-street and four on Ann-street were totally destroyed, and two fronting on Fulton-street and running through to Ann-street were greatly damaged. The latter are extensive warehouses, and occupied respectively by Edward Bosck, importer of musical instruments, and Olcott, McKesson & Co., wholesale druggists.

PROVERES AND PRIESTS .- If proverbs handle lawyers and doctors severely, they are not more than lenient to the "clergy." The Scotch, German, and Spaniards seem to have suffered most from the clergy, judging by the Crows are very wary, and the clergy are vindictive; therefore it is ticklish work trying to get the better of either. "One must either not meddle with priests, or else smite them dead," say the Germans; and Huss, the Bohemian Reformer, in denouncing the sins of the clergy in his day, has preserved for us a similar proverb of his countrymen: "If you have offended the clerk, kill him, else you will never have peace with him." Popular opinion attributes to the clergy, both secular and regular, a lively regard for the good things of this life, and a determination to have their full share of them. "No priest ever died of hunger," is a remark made by the Livonians; and they add, "Give the priests all thou hast, and thou with have given them nearly enough."
